

Code of Behavior and Hospitality Guidelines

Welcome to the Retreat Program you are soon to attend! We hope it will be all you expected and more.

At the retreat center, other programs may be going on in the building. This sharing of space is quite similar to that which takes place in a family home. For this to work, each of us must be considerate of the needs of the other people in the facility for space, privacy and a peaceful atmosphere.

The following guidelines are provided to assist you in using the facility to the maximum extent possible without interfering with the rights of others.

1. Since there are other groups in the building it is important to:
 - Keep noises to a minimum at all times.
 - Not leave trash around the building and grounds.
 - Stay with the group and not to roam around the building.
2. Participants are expected to attend all retreat activities.
3. Socializing prior to curfew should be done in designated areas of the retreat center since noise levels must be kept to a minimum in the sleeping areas. This guarantees the right to privacy and to peace and quiet for not only fellow attenders but also other guests in the retreat center.
4. Everyone will be assigned to a bedroom. It is important that we only use the bedrooms assigned and that we do not switch rooms. In case of an emergency, it is necessary to know where each person is sleeping. No visiting is allowed in rooms by members of the opposite sex.
5. Alcohol or drugs are not permitted. If this is violated, you will be required to leave.

We respectfully ask for your cooperation and are sure that you will adhere to this simple code of behavior. The major point to remember is that you represent the Church and are asked to project an image of Christian consideration, sensitivity and respect to all others and to the property around you.

I understand and agree to the Retreat Code of Behavior and realize that infractions may result in my dismissal.
